Directions: Use the Venn diagram below to compare the Seneca Park Zoo, the Rochester Public Market, and the Rundel Library. In the center of the diagram write two ways that all three of the places are alike. For example, they are all in Rochester. In the part where only the zoo circle and the market circle overlap, write two ways that the zoo and the market are alike, but not like the library. For example, the zoo and the market are mostly outdoors, but the library is mostly indoors. Repeat for the market and library, then library and zoo. In the outermost part of each circle, write two ways that each place is different from both of the others. For example, the zoo charges admission. The market and the library do not.
